Historical Background

Department was established in 1955,with the aim of achieving high goals by imparting regular undergraduate education programme to the girl child. Since then the department is continuously providing quality education to the half population. Tirelessly working hard in spreading Indian Traditional Knowledge to strengthen our cultural heritage. The department has been graced and guided by several eminent teachers. Dr.Neelima Banerjee was first to head this post in 1957. Dr.Meera Trivedi joined the institution on 2nd February, 1982 till her retirement in June,2013. Followed by her Prof.Nidhi Siddharth joined the institution in 2003.Currently Prof.Nidhi Siddharth holds the position of Department Incharge, continuously taking the legacy of department in academic excellence. She has a notable number of research papers, chapter in book,articles etc. published in prominent journals. Besides this she has 4 books in her name out of which 2 are edited.Currently she is also a member of Board Of Studies of AIH department of Lucknow University. She is used to taught Ph.D course work to Ph.D scholars of Lucknow University since 2021-22.

The Museum as a window of past:-

The department has a small Museum full of beautiful placards of original sculptures of different Era depicting the history of diverse culture of India.One can learn and peep into the past through these images. Museum motivate students to know their cultural heritage deeply. Sculptures hold the echoes of silent voices with their words waiting to be deciphered, interpreted and brought back to life. Every year they are brought Back To Life by the teacher and students when they go through them.

Contribution and Achievement :-

Since the establishment of the department it is continuously achieving its goal set up by our great founder Shri Atul Prasad Sen .The department not only empowers the student with knowledge but also inculcates a sense of responsibility towards the nation. Department organizes a wide range of competitions such as poster ,slogan ,quiz, collage, essay writing, self written poems on our national heroes, Rangoli, poster presentation etc. Department also helps students in exploring new heights of knowledge through "Heritage walk ". Students were taken to various heritage sites of Lucknow. Visiting the photo gallery of important sites of ancient Indian history helps them understand the past soulfully. The department is the torch bearer of the college in various activities. Every year students were taken to a book fair there by making them embark to grasp knowledge from various sources. Students were taken to other Institutions also to participate in various competitions which help them in developing their personalities. Departmental students raise the flag high of the institution by winning various competitions under the guidance of Professor Nidhi Siddharth.

Every year the department upholds its goal to hold high the Institution's name . It focuses on quality of education, incorporating moral values, patriotism, social and environmental responsibilities with human values in its base, thereby achieving the aim of making responsible citizens.

Department breaks all the records in academic excellence as the students score highest marks every year. Departmental students are among the toppers of the college. One of the toppers of AIH department also bagged nine gold medals in Lucknow University PG course of AIH department . Her name is Miss Namrata Dikshit, she was also felicitated in the annual function of the college.

Career Outcomes :-

Graduates from AIH department excel in various fields of career such as sales manager, event organizer, teacher, nursing, beauty experts, banking, civil services aspirants, sepoy etc. Most of the students also pursue PG programme from Lucknow University . Thus the department equips them with all the skills and knowledge which help them shine bright in their career.

Teaching And Learning Methods:

The teacher of history is much like a curator who meticulously curates the narratives, selecting the fragments of the past, arranging them with precision and illuminating the connections between seemingly disparate events . The lectures are not mere recitations but performances. Here the teacher becomes a storyteller breathing life into the past with detail and passionate conviction. A wide range of pedagogical methods is used to support student learning . Traditional methods like lectures, group discussions, debate, tutorial etc were taken up along with modern approaches such as Google classroom notes YouTube videos, various e-content from Historical websites. Department also provide a variety of supplementary sources which includes question banks, books from departmental library, projects, field work, study tour, assignments etc. to enhance their vision.

*The department also organizes student seminars, invited lectures, departmental Museum visits to expand their view point and help them in overall understanding of the subject.
