Historical Background

Established in 1955, the Department of Political Science has a rich legacy of academic excellence and intellectual inquiry. Our department offers a comprehensive Bachelor of Arts degree in Political Science, fostering a deep understanding of governance, politics, and societal dynamics.

A Story of Growth and Transformation

Over the years, our department has undergone significant transformations. Miss Aloka Bhattacharya joined as first faculty in the department in 1955.

Following Miss Aloka Bhattacharya's retirement in 1994, new leadership was appointed by the UP higher education Commission wide advertisement no. 20 of Miss Rachana in 1996, marking a pivotal moment in our history. Since then, we have experienced remarkable growth, expanding from 50 members in 1996 to 300 in 2006 and 450 in 2011. This growth has been mirrored in our student body, which has also increased significantly.

Dedicated Faculty and Staff

Our faculty and staff are committed to providing exceptional educational experiences. To cater to our growing student population, the Higher Education created a new post in 1998. Miss Shruti Singh joined this post in 2001 but resigned in 2008 to pursue a distinguished career in the Indian Administrative Services. Currently, Miss Chandrakala provides exemplary leadership, guiding our department since 2021.

'Kartavya Club'

The department of political science is not confined to just completing the syllabus, and ensuring good result of it's students but knows and fulfils it's social responsibilities as well through its departmental club known as 'Kartavya'. It envisages to instil moral values among citizens, especially youth and make them conscious about their duties towards the nation.

Focus is on fundamental duties mentioned in part 4 'A' of the constitution. Students are a busy lot during / before elections advising people to exercise their franchise compulsorily and without fear. 'Kartavya' was established in 26 November 2021 on the occasion of Constitution Day.

Certificate Course in 'Human Rights Awareness'

We are delighted to introduce a comprehensive Certificate Course in 'Human Rights Awareness' started on 10 December 2021, designed to enhance participants' understanding of human rights principles, international frameworks, and practical applications.

Course Objectives:

1. Foster awareness of human rights issues and challenges.
2. Provide in-depth knowledge of international human rights law and instruments.
3. Analyze the role of governments, NGOs, and individuals in promoting human rights.
4. Develop critical thinking and advocacy skill.

Academic Excellence and Research

We take pride in our department's outstanding academic achievements, consistently maintaining a pass percentage of over 98%. Many of our students have secured distinction marks, demonstrating our commitment to academic rigor.
